

Why this unprecedented upheaval? Well, the ROOF at the Doelger Center will be under going repairs, and our usual meeting room, the Doelger Cafe, will not be available. We received a call from Mike Stallings, who heads the Parks and Rec Dept. for the City, with the news of the repairs go-ahead.

So....we'll be meeting a month late, same time, ~~same~~ station, but on the FIRST DAY OF SPRING tra-la!

The raffle was lively, the refreshments tasty as laid out by Marilyn Olcese, Fran Bullard, Lydia Kirschner, Bob and Enid Williams. Chair Mary Hutchings was under the weather, and appreciation was expressed for her leadership, and for the donations of refreshments by Lu Fliegler, Dorothy Orton, Irene Krueger, Bianca Caserza, Nancy Chiappari, Angela Uccella, Myrtle Beili and Rose Veronello.

For those who haven't yet had the opportunity to view the splendid new book about the history of the Colma cemetery complex, there will be a very pleasant "meet-the-authors and book-signing event" at the Globe Tavern, Mission St. and E. Market Street, from 2:00pm to 4:00pm on Saturday, May 20th, and gathered by Marilyn Olcese. Authors Mike Svanevik and Shirley Burgett will be on hand with copies of "City of Souls, San Francisco's Necropolis at Colma." The prolific pair have also just published another new book, hot off the presses, "Portraits of Dedication" San Mateo County Women's Hall of Fame - 1984-1994, containing the personal stories of over 100 County women, with illustrations and photographs. This is a beautiful publication. Mike and Shirley are to be congratulated on their continuing industry.

EDITOR'S NOTES

In conclusion, I want to apologize for the errors and omissions in the May TATTLER and promise to be much more careful in proofing copy before it's off to the printer.

For the second issue since our War Remembrance meeting, I'd left out the contribution to the artifacts display brought by our good member FRANK MAFFEI, the black practice bomb.

Congrats to CHERIE MORENO and MARGARET RICHARDSON for catching the "First day of Spring" error.

And to MARILYN OLCESE, noticing the wrong date for the "book-signing at the Globe, and the wrong spellings of the Goodie Donors."

Sincerely,

Ken Isillepie
