DIRECTOR TED BABOW PASSES

It is with the greatest of regret that we announce the passing of Guild director Ted Babow on July 8th.

Ted had been ill for a number of months, and following the death of his wife Roz last December 7th, had been generally confined to his home.

When the first meetings on behalf of the organization of a History Guild were held back in 1982, the Babows were enthusiastic participants, followed by the formal structure of our Guild in 1986, with elected officers, by-laws, and regular meetings. Ted was an original director, and Roz our first treasurer.

Their partnership in marriage was admirable, full of great humor, high intelligence and a sense of community involvement that kept their lives full and rewarding. For many years they were volunteers at the South San Francisco Kaiser Hospital.

Richard Babow, their son, lived next door to his parents, and kept us informed of the status as it changed. He has been a pillar of strength in these times of sorrow. He maintains the computerized address lists for the Guild, and has volunteered to continue this most valuable activity.

Ted was a stalwart for the Guild, overseeing the table displays at the meetings, offering further explanation, always with a smile, a new joke, and the warmth of a big Teddy bear. The Guild has a great legacy in the memories left by the Babows

The Daly City Council adjourned their regular meeting in memory of Ted, and the County Board of Supervisors followed suit.

THORNTON STORY WORKS WELL

Although it seems ages ago, the May 21st meeting had plenty of meat in it to keep alive the memories of how it was in the days of the first land-claiming pioneer of our area, Robert Sheldon Thornton.

With a comprehensive slide show, narrated by Ken and Bunny Gillespie, the history of the blacksmith/sailor from from the seaport of North Scituate, Connecticut, was traced.

Much research was involved in the story, trips to Redwood City's archives, telephone calls and letters to the East Coast to pin down the names, dates and places that were parts and parcels of the Thornton Story.

What came out of the research was a tale of a man who didn't rush up to the Mother Lode, but one who was mature (age 34 on arrival in California), and who followed his original training as a seaman in bay-sailing, and his further expertise as a blacksmith.

Thornton purchased some 160 acres that ran out to the ocean from near where Joe's of Westlake is now located. He was heavily involved in what later became known as the "Battle of Colma", where other pioneer residents were ousted from their properties by land-grabbing ruffians. He fought the rascals in all the courts available, including the Federal Supreme Court, finally winning total judgment for the settlers.

As a prominent resident, Thornton went into real estate, school administration and politics, naming the original Jefferson School District in 1858. The name is still used today. After his death in 1916, a school was named for him and later his coastside land was named Thornton State Beach.

A number of tables displayed stories and documents about Thornton. Of special interest was a beautifully maintained Kentucky rifle, of the type used by the settlers in defense of their properties. Member Richard Hill brought the rifle, and answered questions about its history.

Betty Schultz, Nominating Committee chair, made her report, and asked for if there were any further nominations from the floor. Hearing none, she declared the nominations to be closed. The election was held and the following officers and directors were installed by DC Mayor (and member) Carol Klatt for the Guild year July 1, 1997 through June 30, 1998.

AL TEGLIA APPOINTED DIRECTOR

The death of Director Ted Babow in July left a directorship vacant on the Board. Therefore, in compliance with the Guild By-Laws, we are pleased to announce that long-time member, former Mayor and Councilman of Daly City, Al Teglia has been appointed by the Board to fill the unexpired term of Ted Babow.

A real supporter of the Guild, he was an originating force, along with fellow councilman Victor Kyriakis, in the History, Arts & Science Commission, out of which our Guild became a permanent, ongoing unit.

Born on Collins Avenue in Colma, raised in small-town Daly City, deeply enmeshed in local and County government and educational activities, Al Teglia will bring a rich experience to the Board.

THORNTON HOUSE DEMOLISHED

Continuing with "Thornton" news, his 1866 house that had been moved to Sullivan some years ago has been demolished! While the Guild had asked for the front door of the antique & historic building, we were not successful in acquiring it. At this writing, the Guild has been promised the old fashioned door bell ringer (the circular kind) by project developer John Tealdi. Member Roger Vincent has offered to polish up the piece of hardware before it goes on display at the Guild Mini-Museum. It won't take up much space, and it will be another tangible link to our past.

NEW MASTHEAD FOR TATTLER

The new look for the Tattler has been created on the computer by Andy Ramroth, member and grandson of the Gillespies.

We are still struggling with the unbelievable complexities of the machine, but are generally satisfied that the clarity of type-setting, if not the content, is well-worth the investment of time and head-shaking in accompaniment.

The computer is hiding myriad lines of copy somewhere. We know we typed it...we just don't why it should be consumed with hardly a burp to show for our efforts.

GATEWAY FESTIVAL DOINGS

The sixth annual Gateway Festival was held over the weekend of June 7-8, in the parking area of the Serra Bowl. The weather was fine, and the side-by-side history booths of the Guild and the Colma Historical Association were attractive to hordes of passers-by.

We had good member participation at the booth, including the Gallaghers, Rineys, Gillespies, Schultzes, Winns, Mary Hutchings, Mark Weinberger, Marilyn Olcese and Don Manning, who brought the display materials, the booth canopy and furniture in his pick-up.

The location of the Festival was very close to where Robert Thornton and other pioneer residents had built homes and businesses.

There was abundant entertainment, rides in PG&E cherry-pickers, many community displays, and a real chance to meet and greet our neighbors. A story about the life of Robert Thornton was written by the Gillespies for inclusion in the program, for which the Guild received free display space at the Festival.

Congratulations to the organizers of the Festival for another job well, well done!

OH, GOODY, FOR YOU!

Our meetings are noted for their snazzy refreshments. In keeping with such tradition, the prospective goody-givers are listed below for the September 17th meeting at Doelger Center.

PRIZES SOUGHT FOR DRAWING

Good quality prizes for the Guild meeting drawing are solicited from members and Guild friends. Such prize awardings are always a lot of fun at the gatherings. Ticketmaster Walter Riney and his trusty staff of Fran Bullard and Hartley Appleton are real eager beavers at the hustling of the tickety-boos.

Prizes of wine, liquor, books, desirable artifacts, knickknacks, just about anything that can be eaten, drunk, read, or admired are really appreciated.

The lucky ticket-holders come up to the table and make selections in order of preference, happy in their luck and their contribution to the financial stability of the Guild!
